

LEGISLATIVE NEWS

SOME EXCITING CONTESTS IN THIRD WEEK OF SECOND HALF OF SESSION

The most exciting contests of the third week in the second half of the legislative session occurred in committee with the possible exception of the dry zone bill in the senate and the semi-monthly pay-day in the assembly.

In the assembly the bill making a semi-monthly pay-day mandatory on all private industries employing over ten men passed by a vote of 47 to 10—twenty-one members absent or not voting and two being ill. Many protests were received against the measure, largely from the oil, manufacturing, mining, public utilities and lumber interests. Oil producers, lumber men, mining men and many manufacturers claimed that they receive payment for their product monthly and depended on the purchase price for money with which to pay labor bills, but their argument was of no avail. The allegation that the semi-monthly pay-day bill was proposed by saloon men in order to stimulate trade was denied by the proponents of the measure in committee. The measure will go to the senate and if there is any desire on the part of the readers to defeat this measure it will be necessary to take prompt action and so inform your senators through your Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade or other commercial and civic organizations.

The public utilities bill amended this session to include all shipping operating between coast points in the state is also the subject of a determined contest. The opponents of the measure claim that it is instigated only by the railroad-owned steamships who desire to stifle competition and by regulation in comparison with rates charged on their railroads seek to raise rates to the shipper on water traffic. It is claimed further that the bill would practically eliminate water traffic between the thirty odd small coast ports not touched by the regular steamship lines. The bill has been rushed through the senate and is now in the assembly where it has been held up pending further investigation. All coast points and those depending entirely on the sea for communication with "the outside" are determined in their opposition to the bill and are enlisting the support of all commercial bodies in the state. Shippers must act promptly as the bill may come up for passage this week.

Assembly bill 679, providing for a monthly account by the harbor commission of San Francisco, said account to be posted in the rooms of the harbor commission in San Francisco, is being supported by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and many other organizations. The board of control and, it is believed, the harbor commission, are opposed to the measure, claiming it is unnecessary; that such statement may be had on application. However, the facts are that such statement only comprises the cash receipts and the cash expenditures without segregation as to the capital revenue and capital expenditure. San Francisco in recent years has voted over $19,000,000 for the maintenance and support of San Francisco harbor. All its wharves, docks, piers, ferry building, up-keep and all improvements whatever are paid entirely from the shipping revenues of the port, the state is not taxed one dollar for its maintenance. Those paying this money are desirous of knowing how it is expended. For instance, they want to know how much this or that pier cost and what its revenue in order that they may determine the manner of expenditure and keep check on the possible deficiency—the cost of operation in the matter of pay-roll, expense, salaries, etc. This report is not obtainable now nor has it ever been. The only report is that made every two years to the legislature and at present no figures are obtainable nor have been obtainable since 1912. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is enlisting and requesting the support of all other commercial bodies.

Senator Butler's dry zone bill prohibiting saloons within a mile of any university, college or normal school in the state was defeated in the senate by a vote of 21 to 20. Organized labor has lost its first fight for the anti-injunction bill. This bill declares that no injunction shall be issued restraining anyone from ceasing to perform any work or labor or from recommending or persuading others so to do. The senate judiciary committee by a vote of 8 to 7 added the words "by peaceful means," but representatives of organized labor claimed that they would rather lose the bill than accept the amendment.

There was a spirited argument in the assembly drainage, swamp and Exalted Ruler Packer appointed the following officers: Charles L. Evans, esquire; Rev. Dr. C. Irving Mills, chaplain; Hadley G. Brown, inner guard; Joseph Cave, organist.

Mr. Packer joined the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks nine years ago at Aberdeen, Wash., and has been honored with the offices of lecturing knight and esteemed leading knight in the local lodge, and was elected to his present position unanimously. He was one of the 27 charter members of Glendale lodge, No. 1289, and has largely assisted in bringing the lodge up to its present luncheon was prepared, there being many out-of-town guests.

Mr. William Herman West, the retiring exalted ruler, was complimented very highly on the manner in which he conducted his office and of his beautiful rendition of the ritualistic work. Mr. West was presented with a beautiful ring from the lodge in token of their appreciation and the high regard in which he is held.

The phenomenal growth of this lodge causes the breasts of the membership to swell with pride, for in less than three years it has reached a membership exceeding five hundred. The financial management of the lodge deserves a word of commendation, the lodge rooms having been furnished at a cost of about $8000 and their four lots on Colorado boulevard, valued at $7000, making a total showing of $15,000 in less than three years. It is the ambition of the lodge to erect in the near future a home on their lots that will contain every convenience for its members and be an ornamental addition to the beautiful places of the city.

The monthly report of the city manager was read and the same will be published tomorrow.

The clerk's report was referred to the finance committee without reading.

The report of the city recorder showed that $85 was collected in fines for the month of March.

The building inspector's report showed that he had received for granting permits during the month of March $130.16.

On motion the bids for electric light standards to be used on Brand boulevard south of Sixth street and on Kenwood street between Broadway and First street were opened and read. The bids were as follows:

Keystone Iron Works—50 standards, 5 globes	$2000
39 standards, single globe	741
So. Cal. Electric Co.—50 standards, 5 globes	1400
39 standards, single globe	618
Lewellyn Iron Works—50 standards, 5 globes	1800
39 standards, single globe	700
Fifty 5-globe standards and 39 single globe standards all for	2185

On motion the bids were referred to H. B. Lynch, manager of the public service department, who later in the evening reported that the Southern California Electric company had submitted the lowest bid, and he therefore recommended that the contract for the purchase of the standards be awarded to said company. On motion the contract was awarded to the Southern California Electric company.

On motion an ordinance was taken up for first reading designating that all vehicles of more than three tons capacity be prohibited on Sixth street from Central avenue to the eastern city limits of Glendale. On motion the ordinance was taken up for a second reading and will be taken up for a third reading at the next meeting of the board.

Discussion brought out the fact that it is impossible to keep Sixth street in good condition as long as there is so much heavy hauling being done on the street.

A communication from the Wm. R. Staats company stated that this company will accept the additional $47,000 of water bonds, they having already purchased $87,000 of the bonds. The company asked a two months period of time in which to take over the bonds.

The fact that the Verdugo Canyon Water company will hold an annual election of officers, Tuesday, was called to the attention of the Board, and since the city now owns 1700 shares of the water stock of said company, it was suggested that the city should be represented on the board by possibly two directors.

The manager of the Public Service department was elected to represent the city as proxy.

A motion prevailed authorizing the city manager to take out Employers' Liability insurance for all of the employees of the Public Service department. Trustee Tower voted No on this question explaining that he thinks the city is able to carry the risk at a less expense than by paying the high premiums required for the insurance.

The question of the extent of the assessment district necessary for the defraying the expenses of opening and widening of Broadway east of Everett street was taken up for discussion. William Anderson and T. A. Wright both of whom are property owners on Broadway east of Glendale avenue objected to being assessed for the opening and widening of Broadway as above specified; their claim being that when the improvements on Broadway were made, that the property owners on East Broadway were not assessed for said improvements.

City attorney Evans called attention to the fact that the assessment now contemplated on property on Broadway west of Everett street is not for the improvement of the street but for the widening and opening. (Continued on Page 4)

MUSIC FESTIVAL

WORK DONE BY MUSIC CLASSES OF GLENDALE SCHOOLS IS OF HIGH ORDER

Los Angeles will add her quota to the celebration of the opening of the Panama canal by holding a great music festival in June.

June 25 will be devoted to an exhibition of work done in music in the public schools of the city. The high character of this work is freely admitted by visiting orchestra and band leaders, as well as school superintendents and supervisors of music from other parts of the country. The high schools are known to have the most extensive and best developed course in America, and the work done in the grades is second to none.

The systems have been carefully worked out by thoughtful and progressive teachers and are the result of years of practical experience in the school room, visits to the leading schools of America where music is taught, and observation and study in the music centers of Europe. What has been gained by these means has been adapted to our own peculiar conditions in California and applied so as to give each student what he most desires in music, while it does not interfere with his mastery of the three R's, or any line of vocational work he may pursue.

The teachers of music dictate no terms, but take the pupils as they find them, and, while they do not claim to have solved all problems, have secured results in musical intelligence and appreciation that have won for their schools their place in front rank of musical achievement and have laid a solid foundation for further work in music if any student desires to specialize in this line.

Similar music courses are followed in the schools of Long Beach, San Diego, Fresno, Berkeley, Oakland and San Francisco, and are developing rapidly in practically all the larger towns of Southern California.

Owing to the phenomenal growth of the Glendale grammar schools, the heroic teacher of music is covering territory demanding the services of three teachers. However, she has visions of receiving much needed assistance, and clings to her motto, "Glendale second to none."

Glendale high school follows a course that is practically the same as that of the Los Angeles high schools. It is past the experimental stage of its experience, but looks forward to greater endeavor and higher achievement with the growth of the schools in numbers.

Considering the large number of school pupils thus pursuing systematic courses in music, some for its aesthetic value, and many for the technical knowledge afforded them, the prediction that California is fast becoming an important musical center is being verified. The boys and girls now in school will soon mold the taste and direct the new work to be done in our great state.

BOBBY BURNS HERE

The tones of a bagpipe awakened the echoes of the streets of Glendale Monday night, as Mr. A. Black of Los Angeles, the foremost piper in the Southland, piped the familiar airs of "Bonny Scotland." Later he delighted the audience at the high school with his playing of the instrument which is to Americans unique and curious. When "Yankee Doodle" and "Tipperary" were recognized, the audience was more than pleased.

Dr. James Henry McLaren, who has given his Burns readings many times over the continent, gave a charming review of the poet's life from the standpoint of the literary critic. He denominated Robt. Burns as the greatest poet that the world has produced, classing Shakespeare as a dramatist.

Retiring from the platform for a time, during which interim three of Burns' best loved lyrics, "Bonnie Doon," "Comin' Through the Rye" and "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," were charmingly sung by Miss Florence Meade, accompanied by Mrs. Dora Gibson, Dr. McLaren reappeared in the guise of Burns, with the "lang-tail't co't, the white breeks, and the shoon wi' siller bookies," such as the poet wore. Realizing that his life has been criticized in many particulars, Burns gave his defense in an eloquent way, delightfully interweaving many of his choicest "songs." His recital of "A Man's a Man for a That," "To a Field Mouse" and "To a Louse" were especially pleasing to the audience.

The program closed by several airs on the pipes, and the audience were loath to leave, calling again and again for more of the familiar tunes.

Brag about the town so much that you will have to work hard to keep from being a liar.

EDUCATIONAL PUBLICATION

In the first issue of the California Blue Bulletin, just issued by the state department of education, Superintendent Hyatt gives the following advice to new county school superintendents of the state, which seems to be good safe counsel for superintendents and for any other officers as well:

Don't take your job too seriously. The world has gone along without you for centuries in the past and it will continue to wag as it will after you are gone. Many things you think you can do you can't do. Be modest and observe much. Do not try to bring people up with a round turn. You are there to help folks along, not to hamper them and snub them with your official routine. Be specially kind and helpful to those away from home and in unaccustomed situations, be they teachers, children or people. Go out of your way to do this when they are young and helpless or ill dressed or stupid or awkward or friendless. If they interfere with your official program, no matter. Better serve much, command little. Of such is the kingdom of the successful school superintendent.

DELIGHTS OF THE FARM

There is no business in the world so delightful as farming when you do not get too much of it. Leisure on the farm is a joy.

To walk out over the broad acres and watch the growing things, be they animal or vegetable, is always pleasing.

The overworked farmer thinks he wants a divorce, when all he needs is a vacation.

The city man looks longingly forward to the time when he can move to the "old farm" and make it his home.

The city man who buys a farm and moves to the country seldom makes a mistake.

But for the farmer to move to town in the hope of finding rest is an illusion, tragic and terrible, not only for the man himself, but for his family, the farm, and for the community.—Elbert Hubbard.

TRY LIVING ONE DAY

Let us spend one day as deliberately as nature, and not be thrown off the track by every nutshell and mosquito's wing that falls on the rails. Let us rise early and fast, or break fast, gently and without perturbation; let company come and let company go, let the bells ring and the children cry—determined to make a day of it. Why should we knock under and go with the stream?—Thoreau.

EFFICIENCY KEY TO SUCCESS

There resided in a small village a number of years ago a lady who followed the occupation of doing washing. She did her work so well that her services were always in demand. So much so, she turned away many jobs of work. When a new family would move to the town and inquire about a place to have washing done, the newcomer was always directed to the lady who did washing so well. This washerwoman charged the highest going prices for her services and was always employed. There were other women who did washing, but they were idle part of the time and complaining about dull times and low wages, notwithstanding there were many families ready to hire washing done providing they could have it done as well as the good washerwoman would do it.

The washerwoman is only another example of the value of efficiency. There are thousands upon thousands of positions open today at good wages for the efficient. There is scarcely a ranchman but can afford to hire another man providing he can get an efficient man. Many large stores are working with less help than they should have because the really efficient man has not appeared.

Many men who are able to pay good wages for competent help are doing the work themselves they would prefer to have help do, all because they cannot find men to do the work well. The writer has found that a large number of printers who are out of employment are men who are not proficient in their line of work, and worse than that, they are indifferent and unreasonable in their dealings, and thus these gentlemen are left without employment. Good work and loyalty makes an efficient workman.

Show me a man or a woman who possesses efficiency plus loyalty and the writer will show you a man or a woman who can always have employment at the highest going wages.

CALIFORNIA SPRING

There are many beautiful pictures gathered in California this year—more than ever before—but none so beautiful as the masterpiece which the springtime sunshine and rains are now painting on the great canvas of the state itself. A thousand miles of gorgeous color now shines back to the sun. Blue peaks tipped with white and purple, and above them the billows of cloud, gray and silver, and the transparent azure of a California sky; rolling hills, green and yellow, blue and brown, massed in symphonic composition; the great plains, a bright yellow-green, flecked with the orange of the California poppy and the pale lemon hued mustard; the rich brown of upturned soil and the thousand tints of new foliage on the trees and bushes; clusters and garlands of billions of blossoms, where soon shall be the ripening fruit; a silken sheen on wind-swept swamps, and sun-flecked shadows in the great forests; lakelets of diamond and sapphire, and the great sea, blue, green, purple and gray, with its border of silver foam; a thousand miles of it, greeted every morning by the glory of a thousand miles of California dawn, and curtained at evening with a thousand miles of sunset rose and violet—this is California in the springtime; God's ultimate masterpiece of creation.—California Outlook.

Keep so busy boosting that you won't have time to knock.

Let's not rock the neutrality boat.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES, ATTENTION!

We had an interesting interview the other day. When Miss Emily Ellias, president of the Glendale High School Alumni association, stated that the organization intended giving a play, we expressed considerable surprise for we did not know that the high school graduates were developed into a working unit. We did so diplomatically, however, for we did not wish to wound the young lady's pride in her high office.

"That seems to be the general opinion," said Miss Ellias. "The association now has over two hundred members and should be one of the greatest agents for progress in the valley. But the meetings have been few and at long intervals and the interest in them has not, therefore, been very keen. By working together on this enterprise we hope to develop a closely allied body which will be fairly representative of the high school from which we were graduated."

"The name of the play is 'Polly of the Circus.' This play has been widely successful in the dramatic world and will be under the direction of Mrs. Wayland Brown, whose skill in these lines is widely known. We intend to make it the most ambitious offering ever produced in the community. Furthermore, it is to be staged at the new Palace Grand theater—check one point for ambition!"

Miss Ellias stated further that the production would be slated for April 22 and 23 and that the proceeds would go to swell the scholarship fund already established by the high school.

There you are, graduates, and those of you who expect to graduate in the more or less distant future! The play ought to be an artistic success. Glendale has turned out more than her just proportion of theatrical lights who will give of their talents, but as Miss Ellias says, the undertaking is an ambitious one and it is up to all of you to get behind it and boost. We'll help.

WHEN WILL THEY CEASE TO MALIGN?

Just why some yellow and radically partisan newspapers will continue to malign President Wilson and his cabinet is not quite clear. Despite the fact that in one of the most trying periods this country has ever had the administration has dealt so wisely that the United States has thus far been kept out of trouble, there are some publications that insult, not only the administration, but public intelligence, by keeping up a tirade against the chief executive.

Those who are fair-minded know that President Wilson, first, last and all the time, is for peace. His views on the subject is shown in his address before a church convention, when he said:

"This is a council of peace, not to form plans of peace, for it is not our privilege to form such, but to proclaim the single supreme plan of peace, the revelation of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Because wars will never have any ending until men cease to hate one another, cease to be jealous of one another, and get that feeling of reality in the brotherhood of mankind, which is the only bond that can make us think justly of one another and act righteously before God himself."

"I value the churches of this country as I would value anything else that makes for the stability of our moral processes. There are a great many people—not so many that they give me any particular concern—but nevertheless a great many people who, in the language of the day, are trying hard to 'rock the boat.' The boat is too big for them to rock."

"I need not tell you that the president by himself is absolutely nothing. The president is what the American nation sustains, and if it does not sustain him, then his power is contemptible and insignificant. If I can speak for you and represent you and in some sense hand on the moral forces that you represent, then I am indeed powerful. If I cannot, then I am indeed weak."—South Pasadena Record.

LINCOLN'S KINDNESS TO ANIMALS

Abraham Lincoln, years before there was any society organized for the protection of animals, wrote an essay on kindness to animals.

In James Morgan's "Life of Abraham Lincoln," we find the following: "Abraham cared nothing for shooting and the one record of his hunting comes from his own pen in after life. 'A few days after the completion of his eighth year,' he wrote of himself, 'in the absence of his father, a flock of wild turkeys approached the log cabin, and Abraham, standing inside with a rifle gun, shot through a crack and killed one of them. He has never since pulled trigger on any larger game.'"

It has been definitely settled that Shakespeare did not serve as a butcher's apprentice in his boyhood days. But even this has failed to lower the price of meat.

COMING MUSICAL EVENT

Millicent Virden, pianist of note, will play in the Glendale high school auditorium Monday evening, April 12th, before her departure for the East on an extended concert tour. She will have the assistance of Ferdinand Rigali, violinist, a newcomer to the West and a highly talented performer.

The main feature of the highly interesting program is a presentation of the variations and fugue by Johannes Brahms on a theme of Handel. This composition is seldom given except on the concert platforms of Europe, because of the unusual powers of interpretation necessary to make it interesting to the general public.

Miss Virden recently presented the Cesar Franck symphonic variations for piano and orchestra at Clune's auditorium, winning warm approval for her poetic interpretation.

TROPICO

The college of music, University of Southern California, Monday evening presented a young pianist in recital who is destined to rank in the musical world with the other boy pianists from the city who have been so favorably received. This pupil who was presented was Wesley T. P. Kuhnle, a pupil of Dean W. F. Skeele in piano and organ, and of C. E. Pemberton in the theoretical work of the college. Although but sixteen years of age, he is to be graduated in June in piano and theory, and is besides an accomplished organist, having played the large organ at the First Methodist Episcopal church of Los Angeles, Sixth and Hill streets, upon various occasions. Young Kuhnle comes from a musical family, being a nephew of Henry Edward Krehbiel, the well-known musical critic on the New York Tribune. This musical prodigy received all his earlier musical instruction at home and has been for three years a student in the college of music. The program Monday evening included the Beethoven sonata, Op. 31, No. 3; the Mendelssohn presto in E, and the Rondo Capriccioso, the Grieg Holberg Suite and a Gondolinetto by Mr. Pemberton. Mr. Kuhnle was assisted by Miss Marie Deets, soprano, pupil of Mrs. Robbins of the college. The recital was held in Symphony hall, Blanchard building, and was largely attended.

Wesley Kuhnle, this boy of such wonderful musical attainments, is the son of Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Kuhnle of Los Angeles and nephew of Mrs. Frank Morgan of Acacia street, Tropic. Miss Helene Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan, is sharing honors with her no less accomplished musical cousin, for Miss Morgan is a recognized musical prodigy among the young girls who are known so favorably in the musical world.

Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club, and her corps of assistants have announced that whist and five hundred will be played at the card club to be given in G. A. R. hall Friday evening. Score cards will be twenty-five cents and the committee invites all of their friends and their friends' friends to be present.

The directors of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club will hold a business meeting in the G. A. R. hall on Friday morning at 10 o'clock sharp. Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the club, desires a large attendance of the directors.

Miss Elsie Anderson of Virginia place was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan and Miss Helene Morgan Monday evening at the recital given by Wesley Kuhnle, the musical prodigy.

HIGH OR LOW, MAN IS THE SAME

The world has always been as it is now. Moralists' strictures will never change it. Man is not perfect, but one age is more or less hypocritical than another, and then simpletons say that morality is high or low. I do not think that the rich are any worse than the poor. Man is much the same, high or low, wherever he is.—Balzac.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

overflowed lands committee over the bill providing funds for completing the levees of the Sacramento and San Joaquin. Many representatives of the delta lands were on hand to urge the delay of constructing levees along the upper reaches of the river until such time as the work of "uncorking" the mouth of the Sacramento to permit the escape of flood waters is further along. They hold that the closing of Colusa, Sutter and Yolo basins would force so much water into the Sacramento that it would be impossible for the channel to carry it and the result would be the destruction of hundreds of thousands of acres on the lower river. The committee took the matter under advisement.

The apprentice bill prohibiting anyone from restricting or preventing any person or persons from learning a useful or skilled trade is being opposed by organized labor.

The assembly has voted an appropriation of $2045 with which to pay the expenses of the assembly on a visit to the San Diego exposition from April 9th to 11th inclusive.

Both houses adjourned Friday from one to three o'clock in commemoration of Good Friday.

Two bills have been introduced in the assembly to terminate the present session; one fixes the date April 24th, the other May 1st.

TRUSTEES LET CONTRACT

The improvement of the street will come up as a separate proposition later. The question resolved itself into whether the opening and widening of Broadway as contemplated will benefit property owners on Broadway west of Glendale avenue. It seemed to be the opinion of the members of the Board that said property owners will be benefitted by the opening and widening of the street as planned, but as a matter of fairness to all, it was mutually agreed by the Board of trustees and those present that the property owners be invited to attend a meeting at which time the assessment shall be fixed for the defraying of the expense of opening and widening Broadway, that all may have an opportunity to give reasons why said assessment should not be fixed at a higher rate than they consider reasonable.

In this connection, Mr. H. M. McQuown of 134 Orange street suggested that it is of the utmost importance that when the streets are being laid out that they be laid out in straight lines, which would therefore do away with the necessity of the expense of straightening streets. Mr. McQuown suggested to the Board that it would be a good plan for Glendale to be represented with a suitable float at the fiesta which is to be held in Los Angeles in May. In his suggestion he outlined the plan of a float that would show the physical features of the most beautiful sections of Glendale.

The dairy ordinance that had been previously declared read for a first and second time was taken up for the third and final reading and was adopted.

"JUDGE NOT"

How do we know what hearts have vilest sin?

How do we know,

Many, like sepulchres, are foul within

Whose outward garb is spotless as the snow,

And many may be pure we think not so,

How near to God the souls of such have been,

What mercy secret penitence may win—

How do we know?

How can we tell who sin-ned more than we?

How can we tell?

We think our brother walk-ed guiltily

Judging him in self-righteousness.

Ah, well!

Perhaps had we been driven thru the hell

Of his untold temptations we might be

Less upright in our daily walk than he.

How can we tell?

Dare we condemn the ills that others do?

Dare we condemn?

Their strength is small, their trials not a few,

The tide of wrong is difficult to stem.

And if to us more clearly than to them.

Is given knowledge of the great and true,

More do they need our help and pity, too—

Dare we condemn?

God help us all, and lead us day by day—

God help us all!

We cannot walk alone the perfect way.

Evil allures us, tempts us, and we fall.

We are but human, and our power is small;

Not one of us may boast, and not a day

Rolls o'er our heads but each hath need to say,

God bless us all!—Exchange.

PERCENTAGE OF CULLS

The present crop of oranges is running about five per cent culls, due to the fact that the crop is heavier than for the past several years. The cull crop is not a loss by any means. The packing houses sell them to Italian fruit peddlers from Los Angeles and suburban cities, and the vendors peddle them from door to door, charging about ten cents a pair for them usually. It is estimated that thirty cars of culls will be sold for table use in Southern California this year. The culls are good to eat, but, because of blemishes, we'll not go into a fancy pack—Pacific Fruit World.

Keep this in mind, all you eligibles—California is prepared to furnish orange blossoms for all the brides.

ECHOES OF EASTER

(By Samuel Parker)

There is no religious festival that gets hold of the masses like Easter, and its observance covers a much wider field than the membership of any church or of all the churches combined. It grips and holds its votaries—not so much from any doctrine involved or taught by any special church—though in this they all agree—but because it is pleasanter to think and talk and sing about life and spring and flowers and sunshine and these are so closely associated with the resurrection that we are unconsciously drawn into an atmosphere of happy thoughts by these that we waste no time in debating that Christ did or did not arise by simply saying "he did."

Did the unconscious Easter atmosphere get hold of you last Sunday? It did unless you are blind or deaf. Didst notice how good looking everybody was? Nobody is ugly any more—but you didn't see a homely person anywhere. And the babies and children were positively beautiful. And everybody seemed so glad to meet everybody else. Oh, that the Easter atmosphere might last all the year.

Another reason for the universal love for Easter comes from the fact that "soul-sleepers" are not a numerous class. "Death is an eternal sleep"—is a repulsive thought—and even the wicked and irreligious shudder at the thought of ending all at a "hole in the ground"—cold, dark, hopeless. The desire to avoid this should turn everyone to singing "Christ Arose."

The belief in a resurrection was cardinal in early bible days. Job—half way from Adam to Christ—exclaimed, "If a man die he shall live again." David said of his dead child, "He cannot return to me, but I can go to him." Martha said of her brother, "Yes I know he will rise again at the last day." If it were known by any number of Glendale people that they were to be finally lost, they would at once lose their reason.

The "resurrection morn" has drawn heavily upon the writers of high song and the response has given the world the best ever produced. These are prime factors in teaching a "Risen Lord," but are not accessible to the common people. Fortunately the hymn books of all churches are rich in hymns that any congregation can use, and these should be used on Easter day to the exclusion of others, thus singing the doctrine "He Arose."

Easter day is uncertain of date, shifting nearly a month in March and April. No reason exists for this except that it is run by the "lunar" rather than the calendar months. There is some talk of changing this to a fixed date, and while about it why not change another, and drive Washington and Lincoln into one? We give G. W. February 22, when we know it is not, but February 11th. Being only a day apart, this ought to be easy.

The ministers met unmeasurable help in spreading Easter knowledge from the press of the country, not only in the wide circulation of programs, but from the 7x9 folio published at the corners to the blanket sheet of the metropolitan press. All publish or republish one or more Easter poems, while all magazines and other periodicals do the same, and Easter music new meets every return of the day.

BIG SHIP COMING

SAN DIEGO, April 6.—The next big steamship which will arrive in San Diego harbor from the Atlantic coast after a run through the Panama canal is the North Pacific Steamship company's liner, the Northern Pacific. This large boat is due here April 10. It sailed from Philadelphia March 25. The Northern Pacific is a sister ship of the Great Northern, the first big passenger liner to come from the eastern coast through the canal to San Diego. Aboard the Northern Pacific are 500 prominent eastern people who are making the trip to see the San Diego exposition and then move on later to the exposition at San Francisco. After discharging its passengers the Northern Pacific will be placed in service between San Francisco and Astoria, Oregon. The Great Northern is already in this run.

A big reception and lavish entertainment, such as was given to the passengers on the Great Northern when it arrived here, has been arranged for those coming on the Northern Pacific. President G. A. Davidson of the San Diego exposition is head of a committee which is working out a program.

The Northern Pacific is 524 feet long, 62-foot beam and is capable of developing a speed of 24 knots an hour. She has accommodations for 478 first-class passengers, 106 second-class and 200 steerage.

Following the arrival of the Northern Pacific just a month will be the steamship Kroonland, due here May 10th. The Finland, sister ship of the Kroonland, is due June 10. These big liners will shortly start in a steamship service of the Panama-Pacific line from New York through the Panama canal to the Pacific coast. The Finland and Kroonland will make the trip every three weeks. Each ship is of 22,000 tons displacement and 600 feet long.

I know that just before me or somewhere about me there is a generation of men who will think less of being saved, and more of being worth saving, less of dogma, and more of duty, less of law, and more of love.—J. G. Holland.
